

Dina Fabery: Hello,

CDL UCF: Welcome Dina 😊

The Learning Glass @ SFSU: Good Morning!

Rafi Layish: Good morning to you as well!

eTube: Ed L. here.

CDL UCF: Please feel free to post any questions here. We will address them at the end of the presentation.

Beth Nettles: Is that the wiki within the LMS or Wikipedia?

Brian Barone: I found it really interesting giving students the option to present their discussions orally. I like this attitude.

Brian Barone: what kind of balance is necessary between giving students options to express themselves how they choose and challenging them to express themselves in ways they are not necessarily good at,

Beth Nettles: thank you!

Corrinne Stull: Uses a page in LMS and give students access to edit the document. It make it very easy to copy the content each semester

A G: How would you justify adjusting assignments to meet students' strengths to faculty who think it would be beneficial for students to improve where they are less strong?

CDL UCF: About pages/wiki pages in Canvas: <https://cdl.ucf.edu/support/webcourse...>

A G: OK, thank you.

The Learning Glass @ SFSU: Thank you all, this was great!

Beth Nettles: great stuff!

Corrinne Stull: Thanks for participating

Dina Fabery: Thank you, great

CDL UCF: <http://dl.ucf.edu/feedback>

Brian Barone: Thank you!

CDL UCF: Thank you for joining us today!

eTube: Thank You, cheers.-- Ed.